DAILY POTATO REPORT No. 110.

EXCERPTS FROM TRUCK CROP NEWS RELEASED BY THE U.S. DEPT OF AGRICULTURE, JAN. 6, 1942.
COMMERCIAL EARLY Harvest of the early crop in the Everglades of Florida began the 10th of December and had reached 18 cars a day by the 30th. Ship-
IRISH POTATOES ments in this territory are on the increase and will furnish most of the supplies for early January. Ft. Myers should start digging around the 10th of the month. There will be few potatoes available in Dade County for harvest before the 1st of February. An occasional carlot crop will be dug this month. The crop in general is in fair to good condition.

No adverse weather has affected the fall-crop acreage of potatoes in Texas. A light harvest has been under way in the Lower Valley the last half of December and production is expected to be sufficient to load a few solid carlots in early January. Harvest of the fall-crop is expected to continue through February which will result in most of the crop being used for mixed cars. A large part of the seed for the Lower Valley spring crop is on hand. Most of the Lower Valley rains have been in the potato area. Preparation of land has been delayed and it will require several days of good weather before growers can get into the fields. Any delay beyond the middle of January of completing most of the seeding of the spring acreage may result in some curtailment of acreage. Ordinarily the Lower Valley growers plant for harvest to begin in late March with active carlot movement to begin in early April.

DAILY POTATO REPORT No. 118.

EARLY IRISH POTATOES (Acreage and indicated production 1942, with comparisons)
(Commercial Truck Crops for Shipment, Jan. 8, 1942)

Production of commercial early Irish potatoes for fall and winter harvest in South Florida and Texas is expected to total 1,490,000 bushels, compared with 1,412,000 bushels last season and the 10-year (1931-40) average production of 1,104,000 bushels. Early yields are good in the Everglades section of Florida where the crop is now being harvested. The Ft. Myers acreage is also in good condition and should produce heavy yields. The Dade county crop is still young and looks fair. The crop in Texas was planted under unfavorable conditions but a light harvest started about the usual time.

Growers report that they intend to plant 23,400 acres of potatoes in North Florida and in the Lower Rio Grande Valley of Texas for harvest beginning late in March. This compares with 24,000 acres harvested last season. The prospective acreage in the Lower Rio Grande Valley of Texas is below last season, while the intended acreage in North Florida is the same as last year. Frequent rains have delayed planting in Lower Valley area.

DAILY POTATO REPORT No. 119.

EXCERPTS FROM THE VEGETABLE SITUATION RELEASED BY THE U.S. DEPT OF AGRICULTURE

The estimates of the potato crop for the last 3 years have been revised to a level based on the 1940 Federal Census and other available information on production. The estimated 1941 crop now totals 358 million bushels (approximately 20 million smaller than that indicated in November) compared with 378 million in 1940 and 341 million in 1939. The following excerpt from the crop report issued December 18, 1941 by the Agricultural Marketing Service explains the revisions: "Most of the revision was in the 30 late potato States where the census revealed a further sharp decrease in the number of farms growing potatoes. This decrease had not been sufficiently reflected in the unrevised estimates. The estimates for the years between 1934 and 1939 have not been revised, hence the above estimates are on a level moderately lower than those previously published for this period. The revised estimate of 1939 potato production is 6 percent below the estimate previously published. When the 10-year (1930-39) average production, now estimated at 370,045,000 bushels, is revised to a level comparable with the revised estimates for 1939 and years following, it will probably be about 2 percent lower. The estimates which are given subsequently for groups of States have also been revised on the same basis as described above for both acreage and production."

The crop in the late States totaled 281 million bushels (revised basis) in 1941, or about 15 million less than the relatively large harvest of 1940. There was a slight increase in the eight Eastern late States but decreases of 5 and 11 million bushels respectively are reported for the Central and Western groups. This smaller total supply of late potatoes together with an improved level of consumer purchasing power this season has resulted in a moderately higher level of prices of potatoes during the fall and early winter months than prevailed a year earlier. This situation is also likely to continue over the next several months, since the early 1942 potato crops will not be available for marketing in volume until April and May.

The acreage of the fall and winter crop planted in Florida and Texas is indicated to be decreased 11 percent this season, or to 11,800 acres from the 13,300 acres last season. This smaller acreage indicates that supplies of new potatoes during the early weeks of 1942 probably will be smaller than in the corresponding period of 1941.

DAILY POTATO REPORT No. 123.

EXCERPTS FROM TRUCK CROP NEWS (Released by U.S. Dept. of Agriculture, Jan. 20, 1942.)
COMMERCIAL EARLY IRISH POTATOES: Belle Glade and Ft. Myers are the present source of new potatoes in Florida. Shipments are on the increase and reached 30 cars on Jan. 14. Quality in both sections is reported to be generally good. In Alabama some seed is being shipped into Baldwin and Mobile Counties but the inshipments are considerably below those for the same date last year. Some potatoes will be planted next week and plantings should be in full swing during the first part of February, conditions permitting.

In Texas, unfavorable weather has continued to delay planting of the Lower Valley potato crop and several days of good weather is needed before growers can get into the fields. A few fields were planted early but present conditions point to a later than usual harvest of this crop.

EARLY IRISH POTATOES INTENDED ACREAGE 1942, with comparisons. U.S.D.A. Jan. 20, 1942.

Intentions-to-plant reports to the U.S. Department of Agriculture from the early and second early States, point to an expected acreage of commercial early Irish potatoes in those States about 12 percent above average but 3 percent below the acreage harvested in 1941. The intended acreage for the three groups of States -- early (1), early (2) and second early -- is indicated to be 186,550 acres compared with 192,500 acres harvested in 1941 and the 10-year (1931-40) average of 166,710 acres.

In the early (1) group -- Florida, north, and Texas, Lower Valley -- the intended acreage totals 23,400 acres which is two and one-half percent smaller than the 1941 acreage of 24,000 acres of 8 percent smaller than the 10-year average of 25,400 acres. Growers in the second section of early States (Alabama, California, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina and Texas, other) plan an average decrease of 3 percent below last year's acreage, or 120,450 acres for 1942 compared with 124,600 acres harvested in 1941. These intentions would indicate, however, an increase of 30 percent over the 10-year average of 92,320 acres. In the second early States of Arkansas, North Carolina, Oklahoma and Tennessee, the acreage is expected to be below both the 1941 acreage and the 10-year average. The acreage of 42,700 acres reported as intended to be planted in these States this year is 3 percent smaller than last year's harvested acreage of 43,900 and 13 percent smaller than the 10-year average of 48,990 acres.

In the fall and winter group of States (Florida, south, and Texas), harvest is well under way on the 11,800 acres reported for harvest in those areas. Although this acreage is 11 percent smaller than the 1941 acreage, it is 9 percent larger than the 10-year average acreage. A prospective production of 1,490,000 bushels was reported on January 8, compared with 1,412,000 bushels harvested last season. Rail shipments to January 17 totaled 341 cars, compared with 224 cars shipped to January 18, 1941, an increase of about 52 percent. These areas, supplemented by light shipments from the southern district of California, will supply the markets with new potatoes until the spring crop in Florida, north, and Texas, Lower Valley, is ready for harvest about the last of March.

DAILY POTATO REPORT No. 133.

MERCHANTABLE POTATO STOCKS AS OF JANUARY 1, 1942 WITH COMPARISONS

Stocks of merchantable potatoes in the hands of growers and local buyers or dealers on January 1, 1942, and available for sale on that date, are estimated by the Department of Agriculture to have been 6 percent smaller than holdings a year earlier but about 1 percent larger than the 10-year (January 1, 1931-40) average. January 1 holdings this year totaled 104,633,000 bushels, compared with 111,693,000 bushels (revised) on January 1, 1941 and the 10-year average of 103,191,000 bushels.

In the 18 surplus late States the January 1, 1942, stocks, estimated at 36,707,000 bushels, were 7 percent smaller than the holdings of 104,471,000 bushels a year earlier. But in the 12 other late States, where production in 1941 was larger than that of 1940 stocks this year, at 6,894,000 bushels, were 14 percent larger than the 6,057,000 estimated to have been on hand January 1, 1941. The 7 intermediate States showed January 1 holdings of 1,032,000 bushels, which are 11 percent smaller than the 1,165,000 bushels on hand last year.

Of the total production of 320,567,000 bushels in the 37 late and intermediate States in 1941, it is estimated that 226,988,000 bushels were available for sale compared with sales of 235,634,000 from the crop of 1940.

The preliminary estimate of disposition of the 1941 crop indicates that the quantity fed to livestock, found unfit for food or seed, and lost through shrinkage and waste to January 1, totaled 20,765,000 bushels compared with 28,389,000 bushels accounted for in this manner during the marketing season for the 1940 crop. The percentage of the 1941 crop found unfit for food or seed (including shrink, waste, and fed to livestock to January 1) is somewhat less than from the crop of 1940, averaging 6.5 percent of production in the 37 States in 1941, compared with 8.4 percent of the 1940 crop.

Growers apparently are saving fewer potatoes for food in the farm household than was the case last year. The quantity saved for home consumption from the crop of 1941 is indicated to be 47,704,000 bushels, compared with 49,876,000 bushels saved from the crop of 1940.

The quantity of seed potatoes saved for planting on farms where grown is only slightly less than the quantity saved last year and is estimated at 25,110,000 bushels from the crop of 1941, compared with 25,480,000 bushels from the crop of 1940. Growers reported that 70 percent of the seed to be planted this spring in the 37 late and intermediate States will be home-grown. Similar reports for past seasons indicated that home-grown seed comprised 70 percent of total seed requirements for the crop of 1940, 68 percent for the crop of 1939, and 70 percent for the crop of 1938.

Carlot shipments by rail to January 1 from the 37 late and intermediate States accounted for 51,219,000 bushels from the crop of 1941, compared with 52,756,000 bushels from the crop of 1940. Apparent sales to January 1, 1942, totaled 122,355,000 bushels, compared with 123,941,000 bushels to January 1, 1941. On the basis of these indicated sales it appears that rail shipments accounted for about 42 percent of sales to January 1 from both the 1941 and 1940 crops.

COMMERCIAL EARLY IRISH POTATOES: (From Truck Crop News Released By U.S.D.A. Feb. 5.)
Harvest of the Florida crop at Ft. Myers is near completion. Digging has started in Dade County and this area will be the main source of new potatoes for the next 45 days. The crop in Dade County is in good condition and growers expect normal yields.

Planting of the Lower Valley, Texas, spring crop was about completed the last half of January. The early plantings are in good condition, and considerable acreage is well advanced. Present prospects indicate a fairly liberal supply of potatoes beginning the latter part of March.

Planting is under way in the early producing areas of Georgia, and should be completed about the last of February. Digging usually begins about May 10. Red Bliss and Irish Cobbler continue to be the leading varieties but Katahdin and White Rose plantings have shown considerable increases in recent years.

DAILY POTATO REPORT No. 146.

POTATOES: (Excerpts from the Vegetable Situation released by U.S.D.A. for Jan. 1942.)

Production of commercial early Irish potatoes for fall and winter harvest in Florida and Texas is indicated to total 1,490,000 bushels compared with 1,410,000 bushels last season and the 10-year (1931-40) average of 1,104,000 bushels. The acreage of the fall and winter crops planted in Florida and Texas is 11 percent smaller this season than last, but the yield per acre is indicated to be 19 percent greater. These potatoes will supply the markets until about the last of March, when harvesting of the Florida north, and Texas Lower Valley crops will get under way.

The acreage of potatoes in the early (1) group is indicated to total 23,400 acres. In the preceding season 24,000 acres were planted. The yield per acre in 1941 was 120 bushels, as compared with the 10-year (1931-40) average yield of 107 bushels.

In the early (2) group the acreage planted in 1942 is indicated to total 120,450 acres compared with 124,600 acres last year. Acreage planted to potatoes in the second early States is indicated to total 42,700 acres compared with 43,900 acres in 1941. If average yields are obtained in the second early States, production will be slightly greater than a year earlier.

Stocks of 1941 merchantable potatoes in the hands of growers and local buyers or dealers on January 1, 1942 are indicated to total about 104 million bushels compared with 112 million bushels (revised) on hand a year earlier and the 10-year (1931-40) January 1 average of 103 million bushels.

The smaller total supply of potatoes together with a higher level of consumer purchasing power this season has resulted in a higher level of potato prices in the fall and early winter months. It is probable that this favorable price situation will continue for the next few months.

DAILY POTATO REPORT No. 159.

EXCERPTS FROM TRUCK CROP NEWS RELEASED BY U.S. DEPT OF AGRICULTURE, MAR. 6, 1942. - COMMERCIAL EARLY IRISH POTATOES:

Dade County, Florida, which had moved 15-20 percent of its early potato crop by the first of March, will be the main source of supply for another 30 days. A few cars of excellent quality potatoes are left at Ft. Myers for immediate shipment. The Hastings area has had some heavy rains, but damage has been light.

Prospects for the Texas Lower Valley spring crop are somewhat doubtful. Blight-infected fields have not shown much improvement and there is little hope of saving them even though growers have dusted regularly. The disease has been kept from spreading with fair success. The cool weather February 18-20 accompanied by additional rains will result in some delay to crops, and it may be late March or early April before any important volume is available.

Early potatoes in Kern County, California, are being planted. Most of the Edison acreage is in the ground, and some fields in that area which were up in late February, were frozen back by frosts at mid-month. These plantings were not sufficiently advanced to be injured severely and the main effect has been to delay the start of harvest a week or ten days.

Most of the Louisiana crop has been planted and possibly one-third is up to a stand. Some seed is reported as rotting in the ground, but unless the rain continues, loss of seed is expected to be small. Seeding operations in Georgia have been retarded by unfavorable weather. Planting was practically completed by March 1, however, harvest usually begins in these early producing sections around May 10. Potato planting is rapidly getting under way in all areas of North Carolina after wet fields had delayed operations.

DAILY POTATO REPORT No. 166.

U.S.D.A. Announces Price Support Program for 1942 Crop Irish Potatoes - Released at Washington, D.C., March 4, 1942.

The Department of Agriculture announced today a program for the support of prices for the 1942 crop of Irish potatoes. The program is designed to encourage growers who cooperate in the Agricultural Conservation Program to plant their full potato acreage allotments in 1942.

The price support will be provided in each of the major producing areas, at scheduled base prices, for potatoes grading U.S. No. 1 or better, sacked, f.o.b. in carlots. Appropriate price adjustments will be made for marketable potatoes grading 85% U.S. NO. 1 and for potatoes in bulk and in storage, if it proves necessary to handle bulk or stored potatoes.

Prices will be supported through one or more of the following methods:

1. Purchases for relief distribution by the Agricultural Marketing Administration; distribution to low-income families through the Stamp Program;
2. Diversion to starch, livestock feed, and other products under AMA programs;
3. Loans or purchases by the Commodity Credit Corporation.

Department officials point out that the potato price support program is not aimed toward expanded production in 1942, but rather to assure the full planting of the allotted acreage which is the same as in 1940 and 1941. This acreage is sufficient to produce the 365,000,000 bushels needed to meet normal domestic requirements. To further encourage full planting, the Agricultural Conservation Program regulations will provide that potato producers must plant an acreage equal to at least 80 and not over 110% of their allotment in order to qualify for the full ACP potato payment.

Low prices for the past few years have caused a considerable reduction of the acreage planted to potatoes, Department officials say, but due to high yields per acre, production has been adequate.

While current potato prices have been favorable they were relatively low during the 1941-42 period of heaviest marketing. Without prices support for the coming season, there is the probability of a severe decline in the potato acreage which might result in an acute shortage of potatoes in 1942.

The following table shows the base prices at which U.S. No. 1 potatoes of specified varieties will be supported in various states and areas for those growers who plant between 80 & 110% of their acreage allotments. Differentials from these prices will be determined for other varieties, other producing locations, marketable potatoes containing 85% U.S. No. 1 grade, unsacked potatoes, and other factors.

DAILY POTATO REPORT No. 177.

EXCERPTS - TRUCK CROP NEWS - POTATOES - released March 20, 1942, BAE, USDA, Washn, D.C.

Early potato supplies from Florida are originating mainly in Dade county and have been moving from the State at the rate of about 30 cars a day. There should be some increase towards the middle of the month. This section will be the main source of supply for another month, when harvest begins in north Florida. Stands are reported to be excellent in the Hastings section. This area has had considerable rain but damage has apparently been slight thus far.

The Texas Lower Valley potato crop is not expected to begin moving until around April 1 with yields considerably below those of last year. Blight has affected some fields since the middle of February. Frosts on March 8 affected scattered fields and most all areas show effects of high winds. The Eagle Lake-Wharton crop is planted and a few fields are now beginning to come up but some seed has been lost because of excessive moisture. Planting in the commercial areas in the northeastern part of the State has been delayed due to cold weather. Conditions, however, were favorable around the middle of March and considerable acreage was being seeded. Planting of the first crop in the Panhandle section started around March 10. Reports indicate the earliest acreage in this area will be light.

The California early potato crop is mostly located in Kern County, where planting is about completed. Most of the plantings in the Edison district are through the ground, with stands generally good. Some of the plantings in the Lerdo-Shafter section are showing. With the present favorable weather, the Kern County plantings should develop quite rapidly.

In South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, and Arkansas, planting of early potatoes has been delayed by cold, wet weather. Some early planted seed has been lost from rotting in the ground.

Planting operations in North Carolina were delayed by cold weather but are now practically complete in all areas. Soils are generally in good condition and no damage to seed from wet weather has been reported.
